

Dear Sirs –

As a DISH subscriber and 88 years young, I resent the email copied below which was recently sent out to thousands of people by Clinton Anderson, who has made many thousands of dollars by advertising his products and services on RFDTV. As a horse trainer who has “bragged” about the hundreds of thousands he has earned by advertising his products and himself on RFDTV, Mr. Anderson certainly would have a vested interest in retaining public access status of the network he is on. This email sent out by his office is clearly an attempt to influence people to write to the FCC on behalf of RFDTV.

This is a blatant attempt to influence people who have no idea as to the real purpose of educational television and to get them to write letters to you.

Sincerely,

Earl S. Smittcamp

Dear --- The high quality programming on RFD-TV is in jeopardy - your involvement is needed, please read the below email and send your comments regarding the impact RFD-TV has on your life to the FCC. Ensure a strong future for Rural America's most important network! C'mon mate - we can do it together!

<Clinton Anderson Background----->

On November 28, 2005, Farm Journal, Inc. (“Farm Journal”) filed a Petition for Declaratory Ruling asking the Commission to find that RFD Communications, Inc. (“RFD-TV”) fails to satisfy the eligibility requirements of an educational programming supplier for purposes of carriage by DBS providers in fulfillment of their public interest obligations under 47 C.F.R. §25.701. Farm Journal alleges that RFD-TV’s programming contains commercial advertisements and is therefore ineligible for carriage on channels that DBS providers reserve for qualified nonprofit organizations or noncommercial educational entities. We request public comment on the issues raised by this filing.

“Dear FCC, RFD-TV is an important part of my life as a rural landowner and horse person. The network provides a great public service - it would be a huge mistake and travesty of justice, not to mention a disservice to America's rural tradition for the FCC to find that RFD-TV is not providing a needed educational public service.

Thank you for your time. Your Name”
